

CARNEGIE'S LATEST MOVE

Will Pay Pensions To All Ex-Presidents And Their Wives.

UNTIL GOVERNMENT ACTS.

No Application From The President Will Be Necessary.

New York, Nov. 22.—Future ex-presidents of the United States are to be pensioned in the sum of $25,- 000 each, annually, by action of the Carnegie Corporation of New York yesterday. The grant is provided with the idea of enabling former executives of the nation to devote their unique knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. A similar amount is to be paid widows of ex-presidents as long as they remain unmarried.

The pensions are to be promptly offered to the ex-presidents or their widows, so that no application will be required from them. Payment is to be continued so long as the recipients "remain unprovided for by the government."

GENERAL MIX-UP

At Main and Ninth Streets At An Early Hour Thursday Morning.

An overturned horse truck, two horses floundering on the sidewalk
at Main and Ninth streets, Clay Powell, the driver, fastened under the front of the wagon and in close proximity to the horses' feet, as well as numerous scars on the base of the drinking fountain and curbing on two sides of it—but no fire—was the result of a false fire alarm turned in from South Main street early Thursday morning. There was no serious damage done except that the black horse of the fire department was slightly injured and will not be used for a few days. Everybody will be glad to learn that the fleet-footed white horse sustained no injury whatever. When the alarm was turned in the driver of the truck let his team out at full speed and when he reached Main street he was unable to make the turn as the horses' shoes were not rough enough to enable them to stay on the new street and the whole bunch went over together.

FINE HOGS

Sold at Highly Satisfactory
Prices to Number of 120.

The sale of Duroc-Jersey hogs, which was in progress when we went to press Wednesday, was concluded with the good prices maintained throughout the sale. A total of 68 was sold for $1,924, the highest price being $105 paid for Geo. W. Mc-Knight's brood sow Zena, sold to John W. Garnett. This sow is one of the finest in the country. Some very small pigs sold as low as $10.
The hogs sold here belonged to Geo.
W. McKnight, of Howell, and Norton
Garth, of Trenton. On Thursday
Col. Igleheart, the auctioneer, went to Pembroke and conducted a sale for John H. Williams, who disposed of about 50 head at satisfactory prices.

The farmers of Christian and Todd counties are paying much attention to the breeding of improved swine, led by such men as Messrs. Mc-Knight, Williams, Garth and others.

California Count May Be Corrected And Change Result.

COLONEL M A Y YET LOSE.

His Plurality Of 66 In Danger Of Being Overturned.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 22.—The district court of appeals handed down a decision in the election controversy yesterday which democratic leaders declare will place California
in the Wilson column.

The decision was against the method of the board of supervisors in canvassing the returns of Los Angeles county. The court held that the tallies should be counted and not the certifications. At least one precinct, that of Pasadena, No. 4 will be virtually thrown out by the decision with a loss of 103 plurality for all Roosevelt electors except Wallace.

JOS. E. DAVIS

postmaster at East, northwest of town, was arrested Thursday by Postoffice Inspector Cutman on the charge of misrepresenting postal receipts in order to secure a raise in salary. It is also charged that Davis exchanged postage stamps for merchandise in violation of the postal laws.

Davis was tried Thursday before Commissioner Alvin Clark and held over under a $1,000 bond, which he gave.

The city authorities this week lifted the floodgate in the Second street places.

News was received here yesterday that Thos. H. Ennis, a son of Mr.
and Mrs. W. D. Ennis cut himself with a safety razor with suicidal intent, at Peoria, Ill., where he was under arrest on a serious charge.

The case of Sidna Allen, charged

Massie at Hillsville, Va., was given to the jury Thursday afternoon. The execution of the two Allens who were to have been electrocuted yesterday was postponed till Dec. 13 by a respite by Gov. Mann.

offered by Bulgaria, acting for the Balkan allies, the battle at the

"BLUES" GUESTS OF HONOR.

Stirring After Dinner Talks on Municipal Topics By Several Speakers.

The H. B. M. A. pulled off its promised banquet Thursday night in its own banquet hall, the "Reds"
serving the banquet with the "Blues" as guests of honor. This was the sequel to the recent campaign to increase the membership, the Blues winning in the securing of new members by 62 to 59. The waiters were as follows:

Mr. C. O. Wright, head waiter, with Messrs. R. E. Cooper, Odie
Davis, T. L. Metcalfe, D. D. Cayce,
Dr. T. W. Blakey, J. C. Hooe, E. H.
Hester, J. T. Wall, Geo. W. Crenshaw and O. C. Kingsolving as assistants.

Following the repast, which was sumptuous and elaborate, there were a number of speeches on municipal topics. County Attorney John C.
Duffy strongly advocated municipal ownership for public utilities. Rev.
A. R. Kasey took as his theme "The City Beautiful" and delivered an address on civic improvement that aroused great enthusiasm.

UNKNOWN MAN

Was To Be Turned Over To County For Burial.

Renshaw & Harton, undertakers, were seen yesterday morning and stated that the body of the man who was killed by an L. & N. train Monday morning had not yet been identified. They have been holding the body as long as it should be and it was their intention to turn it over to the county authorities for burial yesterday afternoon. An article in a Bowling Green paper stating that the man killed was J. D. Wolfe, a citizen of that place, has not been verified, as Wolfe is still alive in Madisonville, and the unknown man will be buried in the potter's field.

FRANKELS' FIRST

To Put In Small Motor Car
For Their Customers.

Always to the front in everything,
the Frankels put into service yesterday for the benefit of their customers a beautiful motor car.

Until the regular driver learns to manipulate the wheel, Malcolm Frankel will drive the car, as he has had much experience with autos.

The car is a handsome Ford 30-horse power, with much highly polished brass and the gold lettering and bright paint colors make it pretty as the band wagon of a circus.

Struck In Self Defense.

C. W. Merriweather, principal of the colored county school in "St.
Domingo" denies a charge of Belle Laprado, assistant teacher, that he assaulted her with a deadly weapon
a few days ago.

Merriweather says he was the person assaulted, and that the woman attacked him twice with a hatchet and once with a piece of wood when he mildly reproved her for extravagance in the use of fuel at the school. He only struck her with his hand, he declares, in self defense.

Two Killed.

Two French aviators were Thursday instantly killed when their aeroplanes fell during practice flights.

WIFE'S HEALTH RESTORED

Husband Declared Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Would Re-
store Her Health,
And It Did.

Ashland, Ky. — "Four years ago I seemed to have everything the matter with me. I had female and kidney trouble and was so bad off
I could hardly rest
day or night. I doctored with all the best doctors in town
and took many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I tried your wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband said it would restore my health and it has."

Mrs. MAY WYATT, Ashland, Ky.

There are probably hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read What Another Woman says:

Camden, N. J. — "I had female trouble and a serious displacement and was tired and discouraged and unable to do my work. My doctors told me I never could be cured without an operation, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am cured of that affliction and have recommended it to more than one of my friends with the best results."

LAST SERMON

Will be Preached by Rev. E. B.
Landis Tomorrow Morning.

Rev. E. B. Landis, who has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at Danvers, Ill., will preach his last sermon tomorrow morning.
The church at Danvers has a membership of 340. A Men's Bible class of 35 members and there are about 400 children and teachers in the Sunday school. The field is a most promising one and a man of the activity and devotion to church work of Mr. Landis cannot fail of accomplishing much good. Mr. Landis and his family will leave for their new home about the middle of the coming week.

Mr. Landis was called to the church May 7th, 1911. He came with his family the first of June and entered upon his work. During his pastorate he did a splendid work and the church has never had a man more acceptable than he. Outside his congregation he has won scores of friends and it is with sincere regret that his people consent to sever the relation that has existed for the past sixteen months. The session of the church met last Sunday afternoon and formally accepted his resignation, much against their will.

MRS. GOOCH

Passed Away Thursday After Protracted Illness.

After weeks of decline from a complication of diseases Mrs. E. M.
Gooch passed away Thursday morning, at her home on East Ninth street. Mrs. Gooch was a native of Hopkinsville and was in her 54th year. In early girlhood she united with the Methodist church and was one of the most devoted members of that congregation. She was an aunt of Earl Bradley, of this city. Mrs.
Harry Wanger, of Little Rock, Ark., and Bernice Gooch, of Hopkinsville,
are her step-children.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
Burial in Riverside Cemetery.

New Treasurer.

Carmi Thompson, Secretary to President Taft, yesterday was appointed Treasurer of the United States to succeed Lee McClung, resigned. Charles D. Hiles will succeed Mr. Thompson.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Issued By Gov. McCreary Calls On Kentuckians To Observe Thursday Nov. 28.

Gov. McCreary has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation: "With love and veneration we should offer praise and thanks to God for the manifold blessings conferred upon us, and unite in earnest supplication for their continuance.

"The year now drawing to a close has been conspicuous and notable. Our Republic has been at peace with the whole world; our state has had rich harvests, productive industries, happy and contented people; abundance at home and overflowing markets; law and order have been preserved, the glorious heritage of self-government has not been impaired, but strengthened; and wherever we may think we have abundance cause for satisfaction and gratitude to God.

"Wherefore, I, James B. McCreary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, designate Thursday, the 28th day of November, 1912, as Thanksgiving day, and call upon all the people of Kentucky to give thanks and praise to God for blessings He has conferred upon us and to humbly beseech a continuance of his great mercies.

"In testimony whereof I have caused these letters to be made patent and the seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to be hereunto affixed. Done at Frankfort, the 12th day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in the one hundred and twenty first year of the commonwealth. (Signed)

"JAMES B. MCCREARY, Governor.

"C. F. CRECELIUS, Secretary of State.

"By W. L. GEIGER, Assistant Secretary of State."

She Broke Down Entirely

Lantz, W. Va.—Mrs. Tobe Talbott, of this place, says: "I had been troubled with womanly ailments for some time, and at last I broke down entirely. I got so weak I could scarcely walk across the room. Thanks to Cardui, I improved right off. Now I do my housework, and am feeling well." During the past 50 years, more than a million women have been benefited by taking Cardui. You must believe that Cardui will help you, too, since it helped all these others. Cardui is a safe harmless, vegetable remedy, of positive, curative merit, for women. At all drug stores. FORM NO. 27

Relating To the Postal Savings System.

The following circular concerning postal savings bonds to be issued January 1, 1913, has been received by Postmaster Williamson:

"Applications for bonds may be received from depositors up to and including December 2nd, and when received should be forwarded to this office immediately. Applications forwarded after that date will not be accepted for bonds of this issue. As a check against loss in the mail, you are directed to forward at the close of business on December 2, 1912, a statement showing the names of all applicants and the total amount of bonds applied for, or, if no application has been received, a report to that effect.

"The postmaster should verify the names of applicants as given in each letter of acknowledgment from this office and immediately report any errors.

"When postal savings certificates are endorsed and surrendered with an application for postal savings bonds the postmaster must use as great care to identify the depositor as if the certificates were to be paid in cash.

"To facilitate the recording of the applications great care should be taken to see that Form 309 is completely and correctly filled in; that the proper amount of certificates of deposit accompany the applications; and that the endorsements correspond to the name on the face of the certificates.

"The street address of the applicant or the words 'No street address' must be inserted below the signature.

"The bonds will not be available for delivery until a month or more after January 1, 1913, but will bear interest from that date."

His Version.

At an examination held in a junior school a composition on cats was set. One young hopeful wrote the following: "Cats that's made for little boys and girls to maul is called 'Maltese' cats. Some cats are known by their queer purr; these are called 'Purrelan' cats. Others with very bad tempers are known as 'Angorie' cats. Cats with deep feelings are called 'Felline' cats. Very fine cats are called 'Magnificats'."

WAYS OF PAYING COMPLIMENT

Many Methods, and Girl Just Entering into Society Must Be Appreciative.

One of the first things a girl has to learn is the art of receiving compliments, neither appropriating nor disclaiming them.

It is sometimes difficult, and to blush is fatal.

Oh, those youthful blushes! How distressing they are to their vexed owners, and yet what a charm they give to ingenuous girlhood.

The skillful complimenter embarrasses no one, not even the shyest girl.

He knows how to convey an expression of his appreciation without exactly saying it.

Such a man can flatter one's self-love quite sufficiently in merely saying "How well you look!"

The tone and manner are eloquent enough to supplement the poverty of the words, and their meagerness allows the recipient of the compliment to accept it without embarrassment.

A florid compliment makes a woman look—or at least feel—a perfect goose.

But they belong to a past age.—Exchange.

DARK ENDS "SIGN" TALKING

When the Husband Began Explaining the Wife Simply Turned Out the Lights.

"I heard a deaf and dumb story recently that made me laugh," said W. R. Hopkins. "A deaf and dumb youth fell in love with a deaf and dumb girl. After making love for several weeks he proposed marriage and was accepted. A deaf and dumb wedding ceremony followed and immediately after the ceremony the couple started on their honeymoon."

One evening the bridegroom drank too much. He returned late to the hotel where they were stopping and staggered into the room where his wife was in bed. She sat up and turned on the electric light. Recognizing his condition, she sailed into him in deaf and dumb sign language. She called him every name a deaf and dumb woman could call a deaf and dumb man. When she had finished, the poor husband started to explain, but the wife coolly turned out the light.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FULLY EXPLAINED.

"Look here," stormed the customer, pointing to the tureen, "what is the meaning of that dead fly in the soup?"

"I regret, sir," said the waiter, politely, "I cannot supply you with the desired information. I am only supposed to serve the soup, not explain the ingredients."

"But a dead fly, man," persisted the customer, "a dead fly! How did it happen?"

"I am sorry to say, sir," replied the waiter, "I have no idea how the poor creature met its fate. Possibly it had not taken any food for a long time, and, fluttering near the soup, found the flavor particularly pleasing, and, eating too heartily, contracted appendicitis or some kindred ailment, which, in the absence of an opportunity for the application of the X-rays and the resultant operation, caused its untimely end."

THAT MUCH TOO MUCH.

"Mother, does Mr. Smith wear his every-day clothes under the long, white gown when he preaches?" asked a little girl who had seen the edge of the minister's trousers under his robe.

"Yes, dear," was the reply. "Well," she continued, "now I know why it is called the surplus."—Continued.

DEPENDS.

"Are you really going to get up, this camping-out party?"

"Well, it was rather in the nature of a tentative proposition."

THE END.

"How did you get along this summer with your plans for abolishing the mosquito?"

"Stung."

ROAD TALK.

A Wide-a-Wake Farmer Advances Some New Ideas On Road Building.

Mr. Editor.

Now that the election has come and gone and the shouting is over, let us all pull for the one thing badly needed in old Kentucky and especially in old Christian county, that is good roads.

Many miles of our county roads are a disgrace to any people who call themselves civilized. Now this can be changed if we will only get down and at it as we ought. It will take cash and some skill to make it a real success. This county has really been wasting much good money on our dirt roads. Many miles of them are so located as to be the only outlet for the surplus water from either side and any money spent on them is a criminal waste of taxes, as no court has a right to levy a tax to be thus thrown away.

A remedy for this would be in employing a competent civil engineer and paying him enough to keep him on the job all the time and have him locate the parts that have become real waterways. Then the money spent on them would be sure to give good results and our road tax would not look so much like highway robbery as it now looks to the average taxpayer.

The Fiscal Court has surely tried the old penny-wise and pound foolish way in its dealings with our county roads. Hiring a road superintendent on a pay so small that to support his family he was compelled to engage in some other business and then they censure him for poor work.

All county roads should be maintained by the property abutting on them or near them, supplemented by a pro rata of the tax from corporations and each district have charge of the roads in its boundary. Then each tax payer would be interested in the upkeep of the highway he uses most and would not be so ready to put his heavy hauling off for the wet days as the damage he inflicted would fall on him most heavily. The work on the roads would be done by the tax payers on the roads actually used by them. As it is now done the tax payer can't see where his money goes and it makes a kicker out of him and a kicker makes a poor team-mate when a heavy load is to be drawn.

Our pikes need a real overhauling by a competent civil engineer and the useless grades taken out. No hill should show more than 5 feet in a hundred grade and the road bed should be so built that no water would run down the center of the road, but go off at once to the ditch by the side and these should be large enough to take care of all the water that might come.

The upkeep of pikes should be borne by the whole country, as all use them. All pikes should be built by proceeds of bonds running a long term of years, thus placing some of the burden on those who will get town. Some of the benefits, as there is no reason why we should build and pay for roads to be used by another generation.

The building of these pikes should be by a board of men of both parties equally divided and not by the Fiscal Court. All agree that politics and good business seldom go together in the same man when that man can freely use the political end when it pleases him to do so. So let us all forget the quarrels of the past and pull together for good roads in old Christian.

Yours,

H. S.

INCORPORATED

CAVALRY TO CHANGE DRESS

Austrian Soldiers to Abandon the Color Which Has Been in Use in That Army Fifty Years.

Most people think that the French are the only soldiers in Europe to wear red trousers. But we are now told that the red trousers worn by the Austrian cavalry are to be abolished. They have formed part of their uniform for nearly half a century, and are connected by a curious cash-nexus with one of the greatest historical dramas of the last century. They go back to the time when the hapless Archduke Maximilian went out to Mexico as her emperor and, in compliment to the French, who had put him on the throne, he decided to dress his new army after the French style.

He placed large orders for red cloth with some firms at Brunn and Reichenberg. These firms, however, had little faith in the success of the Mexican adventure, and they refused to execute the order unless the Emperor Francis Joseph guaranteed the payment. He did, and when the disastrous day of Queretaro, just fifty-five years ago, ended the brief rule of Maximilian, Francis Joseph found himself in possession of enormous quantities of red cloth. Just at that time the war of 1866 had depleted the stock in the clothing depots of the Austrian army, and so, without further ado, a cabinet order was issued to clothe the limbs of the Austrian cavalymen in red trousers.

DUMAS WITTY TO THE END

Great French Novelist Had His Joke, Though He Knew He Was on His Death Bed.

Maurice Dreyfus has just published the first volume of his reminiscences, in which he has some interesting things to say about the two Dumas. His story of the death of Dumas pere is not without its pathos. He visited his son near Dieppe in 1879 and greeted him with the words, "My boy, I have come to lay my bones in your house." A bed was prepared for him at once and he lay down for the last time. A little later he turned to his son and said, "Alexander, look and see how much money there is in my waistcoat." There were only twenty francs, and on being told the amount the elder man said: "Look, my boy; everybody says I am thrifty and even you yours author of a play based upon extravagance. Now you can see it is true it is. You know I have memoirs that I came to Paris only a twenty-franc piece in pocket and you can see for yourself that it is still there." But Dumas fils was soon to discover that twenty francs was sadly inadequate for the payment of his father's debts, which were many and large.

BEST OF ALL REASONS.

A Kansas City bank president was surprised a few mornings ago when a young boy entered his private office, unannounced, and stepping up to the desk calmly introduced himself. The banker, while very busy, was amused at the boy's self-assurance, and after talking with him for a few minutes inquired what he wanted, thinking he was selling tickets for some school entertainment. Much to his surprise, the lad replied:

"I'd like to get a job in your bank."

The man was becoming interested. He asked:

"Why do you want to work in my bank, my boy?"

The reply came instantly:

"Because there's money in it."

HAD HEARD IT OFTEN.

"Children," smiled the elderly visitor who was addressing the school, "can any of you tell me what the famous Schleswig-Holstein question was?"

A curly haired youngster raised her hand.

"Well, little girl?"

"Uncle Zeb, which side do you milk her on?"

IN FOR TROUBLE.

"I feel so sorry for her."

"Why?"

"She has a handsome husband who knows that he is handsome."

HUMAN FACT.

"Woman came after man, for must remember."

"Yes, and she's been all over since."

DAWSON BOY

In The Clutches Of Uncle Sam At Owensboro.

Walter Rice, aged about fourteen, of Dawson, was arraigned before U. S. Commission Clark Wednesday afternoon on a charge of rifling the United States mail. He was held over to Federal Court, and, in default of $300 bond, was taken to jail at Owensboro.

The December American Magazine.

The December American Magazine marks an important epoch in the history of periodical making. With this number The American goes to a new size—8 1/2 inches by 12. This permits of three columns of reading matter to the page, much larger and more beautiful illustrations, a book practically as thick as the old standard sized magazine and a greatly improved physical appearance all around. Of the ninety-two illustrations in the number, twenty-four are in color.

David Grayson, F. P. Dunne, Helen Keller, Ida M. Tarbell, Ed. Howe, James Montgomery Flagg, Emerson Hough, and Oliver Herford are among the notable contributors of articles to this first number of the new sized magazine.

On the side of fiction, Arnold Bennett leads the way with the first chapter of a new serial entitled "The Regent"—a theatrical story, lively and stirring. Other stories are by Harris Merton Lyon, Welford Beaton, Frank Barkley Copley, Henry Oyen, Mary Brecht Pulver and Ralph Straus.

The principal departments, "Interesting People," "The Theater" and the "Interpreter's House," are full of good reading.

Nicaraguan "Capote."

Instead of raincoats, the Nicaraguan wears a "capote," which is a piece of impervious material almost square, with a hole in the center large enough for the wearer to put his head through. It is made by pouring rubber over unbleached muslin.

The Question Today

There is mighty little sentimentality invested in dollars and cents to-day. There are two separate and distinct propositions touching on money matters which interest you, positively only two, "How much can I make?"
and "How much can I save?" We would advise a quick inspection of this stock, which has been "Kut to the Kore" and have no hesitancy in saying that these two propositions would be brought home to you more forcibly, perhaps, than ever before in your life. Anticipate your

BUY THE BRAINS BEHIND THE CORN

It Cost One Farmer $500, but He Won Out.

THEY DETERMINE THE VALUES

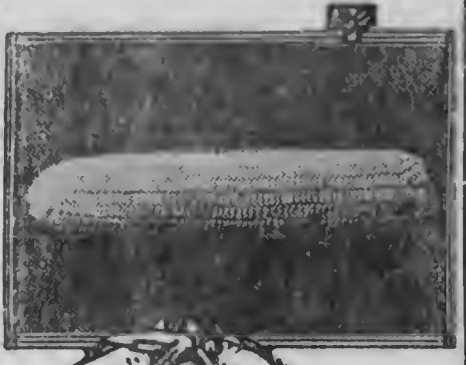

Raw Material Is Cheap, but the Amount of Brains Mixed With It in Manufacture Means Profit or Loss. Learn How.

Some years ago a Hoosier farmer began to breed fine seed corn. At one of the great national corn shows, held at Chicago, he took the first prize for a single ear of corn. The rule governing this exhibit was that the ear taking first prize became the property of the corn show. The farmer was in despair until he learned that this "best ear in the world" would be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. He determined he must keep this ear of corn for seed on his own farm at any cost. HE BOUGHT THE EAR FOR $500.

Every one said he was crazy to pay such a price for a single ear of corn. Of course any other ear of the same weight and costing about 1/2 cent would have fed as much stock or made as many cornmeal butter cakes for breakfast. Why was he willing to pay such a huge price for the corn? He was not buying corn at all. HE WAS BUYING THE BRAINS BEHIND ITS PRODUCTION.

Raw material is cheap; the amount of brains mixed with it in its manufacture fixes its market value. A piece of window glass is cheap; a watch crystal is more expensive; a lens for a fine camera is quite expensive; the objective for a great telescope may cost a small fortune. What is true of corn or any raw material is true of men. A fine, strong, vigorous man can be bought for $2 as a laborer. Mix brains enough for him to handle a section gang, and he will bring $3 per day.

Mix brains enough to fit him for a conductor, and he will bring $4 to $5 per day on the market.

A $500 EAR OF CORN.

Enough brains to handle a great railroad system, and he brings $100 per day on the open market.

All values in the market of the world are educated brain values. The cheapest education is the best, for the efficient, well educated man is the high priced commodity.

Painting and Grapefruit.
"You say that painter wants you to get some paint on a paint brush, Bobby?" exclaimed a farmer.

"Yes, sir, to paint pictures with," answered his eight-year-old hopeful.
"Do you know when I went to school I had lots of old blue back spellers and hickory sticks and no frills or fur belows. I reckon I'll have to get 'em for you, but it looks like a plumb waste of time, this paintin' of pictures."

His good wife smiled behind her glasses and kept on sewing. Some time later, when Bobby was fast asleep, she adroitly asked the man enveloped in the blue haze of White Sulphur, "Rob, what did you get when you were in town this afternoon?"
"Why, I got those repairs for the shredder that had come by express, and I saw some nice grapefruit and oranges and brought a few along. Why?"

"What was the use of bringin' them home? You knew we had plenty of bacon, potatoes, beans and coffee in the pantry, didn't you?"
Gradually the man struggled out of the smoke long enough to exclaim: "One reason I got 'em was to please you. Great Scott, don't you ever get worked out, tired to death of fat meat and coffee, woman?"

"O' course I do, an' I like grapefruit and all kinds of odds and ends to give me an appetite for the plain, substantial things. But," and a pleasant mischievous smile spread over her soft, motherly face, "you an' I were raised on fat meat, coffee and lots of hickory sticks, weren't we, Rob?"

For a moment the man's face wore a puzzled look. Suddenly his face cleared, and he laughed heartily and said: "I reckon I was kinder hard on Bobby just now. You are right—things are different now, an' they're a lot better than they used to be. I see what you are drivin' at, mother. Yes, the teacher wants to use the paintin' like a kind of relish or side dish to keep up their appetite for the rest of the everyday school grub."

The natural resources of any country are limited. The only resource that is without a limit is human brains.

A Splendid Tonic

Corra, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says: "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to my friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from the hands of earnest women, who have been benefited by timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women. It is certainly worth a trial. Your drugist sells Cardui.

DAINTIES FOR SUPPER

LIGHT AND AT THE SAME TIME SUFFICIENTLY NUTRITIVE.

Rice With Oranges Will Be Appreciated, or Rice With Fried Bananas and Poached Eggs—To Prepare Spanish Beans.

Rice and Oranges.—Have a dish of hot plain boiled rice. Slice some oranges. Put a tablespoon of rice on a plate, garnish with a few slices of orange and pour over sauce made in the following manner: Melt one cup of honey over a slow flame and add one tablespoon of brandy, maraschino or even a little grape juice if it is for children.

Lightning Cake.—Break two eggs in a large measuring cup, add three tablespoons of melted butter and fill up the cup with milk. Sift one and one-half cups of flour, one scant cup of sugar, a pinch of salt and two heaping teaspoons of baking powder. Pour liquids into dry ingredients, beat well and bake in a moderately hot oven until done. Test with a broom straw. This cake recipe can be used as a layer cake, as a loaf cake or baked in small tins. A measuring cup holds two medium sized cups.

Rice, Fried Bananas and Poached Eggs.—One cup of well washed rice and three cups of milk or water. Cook for one hour in a double boiler with half a teaspoon of salt. Fry five bananas and some slices of bacon (usually fry two slices apiece). Poach five eggs in milk or water. Arrange rice on platter, carefully lift eggs and lay on rice and then put bacon and bananas around the eggs. This is a delicious and appetizing dish. I usually serve a crisp salad afterward.

Apple Salad.—Slice firm tart apples (Newtown pippins are fine); slice some oranges. Pour over some salad dressing and toss lightly on a plate of crisp lettuce.

Dressing.—Two tablespoons of vinegar, add one teaspoon of salt and two teaspoons of sugar and one teaspoon of burnt onion juice; then pour into this slowly one cup of olive oil. This is a fine dressing for any fruit or vegetable salad.

Spanish Beans.—Soak two cups of Spanish beans (the large pink ones) over night. In the morning drain the water off thoroughly. Chop fine two large onions and fry in a pan until brown; add beans and cook about ten minutes, watching carefully. Pour over these one can of tomatoes and a heaping teaspoon of salt; add two bell peppers if desired. Cook slowly until tender, adding water as needed. Requires about three hours' cooking. At serving time put in a baking dish, cover well with grated cheese and brown in hot oven. A piece of salt pork may be added if desired, and I usually serve brown bread also. This dish of beans is good topped off with a lettuce salad or a cold boiled artichoke with mayonnaise dressing.

Beef and Lamb Croquettes.

One cup cold meat, three-quarters cup boiled potato, one small onion, two sprays of parsley; put all through chopper; then melt two tablespoons butter and mix well with it two tablespoons flour; add when well blended one cup of milk, a little at a time, until sauce is good and thick; add to sauce other ingredients, salt and pepper to taste, and a pinch of sage or poultry dressing. Mix all together and set aside to cool. Shape into small cones or balls; be sure not to have them too large. Then roll in bread crumbs; then into the white of an egg, which should have one tablespoon of water beaten into it slightly; then into crumbs again, and then set aside until meal time. Fry in deep fat until well browned, turning over all the time. Try fat with small piece of bread and if it will brown while you count 45 it is ready. Cook four croquettes at a time.

Tomato Omelet.

Peel two large tomatoes and cut in pieces. Cook slowly with one-third level teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of red pepper. Beat separately the yolks and whites of three eggs; mix and season with a pinch of salt and a very little pepper. Melt a rounding teaspoonful of butter in a pan, turn in the eggs, and as they begin to set lay the tomato around the top. Finish cooking, turn and serve with a parsley garnish.

Grease Spots.

For very bad grease spots on the front of a cotton dress sprinkle plentifully with finely prepared starch and cover it with brown paper. Iron it with a hot iron for a few minutes, then wash it in the usual way in warm soapuds; no trace of the grease remains.

Barberry and Sweet Apple.

Take one gallon of molasses, four quarts barberries and a large pan of sweet apples, sliced. Put on to boil and cook in a large crock and cover. If it is cooked right it will not ferment.

Eggplant Patties.

Mold the eggplant pulp to make patties or croquettes. If necessary roll them in flour to hold them in shape. Dip them in egg, then in flour, then again in egg and finally in fine bread crumbs. Fry in hot oil or fat.

Ox Tongue, German Way.
Parboil the tongue, take off the outer skin, roast till tender, basting it continually; dish with brown sauce and serve current jelly with it.

DUE HONORS GIVEN MARTYRS

Saints Who Died for the Faith Buried Beneath High Altar, and Miracles Are Wrought.

Some 1,300 years ago, so runs the tale, the beautiful daughter of a heathen king of Ireland fled from her father's court and, crossing the seas, took refuge at Gheel. Dymphna had been converted to Christianity by the teaching of a monk named Gerebern, and it was under his protection that she sought deliverance from her unnatural father, who strove to force upon her an incestuous union. The infuriated king followed the fugitives and discovered their retreat. Gerebern was cruelly put to death by the savage soldiery, and the king himself, regardless of his daughter's pleading for mercy, seized her long hair, and with one blow cut off her head; then, without waiting to give his victims burial, he returned to Ireland. After a time it began to be rumored that strange miracles of healing from sickness and disease were wrought on the scene of the horrible crime; and, curiously enough, it was those afflicted mentally who derived especial benefit. The spot came to be considered holy ground, and soon a church was built and dedicated to St. Dymphna, within which the bones of the martyrs were laid to rest in a vault prepared for their reception beneath the high altar. Alice Isaacson, in the Atlantic.

ROSE TINT ON MOUNTAINS

Due to the Fact That Certain Rays of Light Possess Peculiar Penetrative Power.

The rosy light that tinges so beautifully the summits of lofty, snow-clad mountains before sunrise and after sunset is due to the fact that the yellow and red rays of light possess more penetrative power than the blue. The first-mentioned rays make their way through stretches of the atmosphere which entirely arrest and turn back the blue, and they do this the more especially if the air be laden at the time with extraneous particles that augment their opacity.

When the sun is below the horizon the red and yellow rays struggle on through the air as far as the snowy heights, dropping their associates by the way, and thus paint their fleecy surfaces with red and yellow tinted light. This rosy afterglow is very beautifully seen on the Jungfrau. The broad-based cone is suddenly covered in the deepening twilight with the crimson hue of the rose, and this gradually fades until the whole has vanished into darkness. Harper's Weekly.

WORLD MUCH IN HIS DEBT

Carl Von Linneus, the First Botanist, Never Properly Recognized for His Earnest Work.

Carl Van Linneus started the school of pure botany. His was a work of love, scarcely bringing him a decent livelihood, though he labored day after day, comparing, arranging and naming the flowers. To him plants in their variety were elements of an immense puzzle whose solution brought him great joy. Linneus was no laggard, but he did not take his study too seriously, nor did he expect all men to take his view. It was he who said: "Botany is a harmless pastime, good for ladies and not hard on the mind." The binomial nomenclature or system of double names now being assailed in some quarters arose from Linneus' brain. A generic and a specific name conveys a somewhat definite idea of relationship, somewhat though not a complete conception. For example, Pyris communis means a common pear as Linneus defines that fruit, not an apple nor a mandrake; but our English term stone fruit may mean one of a half-dozen orchard products. Linneus gave us a definite and more or less complete system of plant names. This was in the eighteenth century.

Pratt of Hackensack, N. J., who for almost sixty years was a Presbyterian missionary in South America.

ICE CREAM CONSUMPTION.

Five quarts of ice cream per capita are consumed by the American people each year at present. This is more than double the quantity that sufficed in 1906. Coincidentally with this increase have come inventions for avoiding the economic waste of freezing ice cream by the ordinary mixture of ice and salt, 3,000 pounds of ice and 800 pounds of salt being required to freeze 100 gallons of ice cream by this method. Artificial refrigeration and electricity are employed in the new devices.

FOR WOMEN WHO CARE
Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best. Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed. Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine

ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

INSTITUTE FOR FARMERS
 Department Of Agriculture Will Furnish Lecture On Many Topics.
TO BE HELD DECEMBER 9-10.
 Farm Life In All Its Phases Will Be Discussed For Two Days.

J. W. Newman, State Commissioner of Agriculture, is determined to give the farmers of this section every opportunity to learn how to cultivate their ground, raise hogs and cattle, how to handle the clover crop, retaining soil fertility—in fact to become familiar with every phase of farm life. With this in view he is now conducting farmers' institutes in this end of the State. These institutes cost the farmers nothing. The lecturers are paid by the state, as well as all incidental expenses. All that Mr. Newman asks is that the tillers of the soil attend the institutions and enlighten themselves as to the most profitable way of conducting a farm.

The date named for holding an institute here is Monday and Tuesday December 9th and 10th. He will furnish two lectures on farm topics and a lady lecturer on household affairs.

E. C. Martindale, of Wilkinson, Indiana, will discuss the following and other topics: Corn and management of beef cattle, the horse and his care and training, raising and feeding hogs, sheep on the farm, improving the soil, the clover crop and how to handle it, good pastures, selecting and storing of seed corn, wheat.

Stanley F. Morris, of Northboro, Mass., will speak on: Renewing and maintaining soil fertility, fertilizers—methods of application and economical use, how to make the farms pay, crop rotation, alfalfa.

Mrs. Helen B. Walcott, Shelbyville, Ky., will interest the ladies on paving the way for domestic science, making homes attractive to the young, balanced rations in home cooking, utilizing the article at hand in cooking, etc.

W. H. Clayton—horticulture, every phase of fruit growing to be profitable.

Services Close Sunday Night.
 The last service of Home Missions week, as observed here will be held at the Ninth st. Christian church on Sunday night at 7 o'clock. The First Presbyterian church, the Westminster Presbyterian church and the Ninth St. Christian church will participate in this service. Rev. Mr. Belt of the Presbyterian church will speak and special music by the combined choir of these churches will be had.

On Thursday night Rev. E. B. Landis spoke at the Ninth St. Christian church on "The Country Church." He showed great familiarity with the needs and conditions of the country side and village. He emphasized the necessity of better homes, more recreation, better roads and the like. "But," he said, "The church is the key to the situation. It must furnish the ideals and many of the means of improvement. It must have a resident instead of a visiting preacher. It must be broad and not sectarian. It must have the passion to be of real use to the community."

The address was full of practical suggestions touching one of the salient and vital questions of the American church and of Anglo-Saxon civilization.

A Thanksgiving Window.
 W. T. Cooper, the grocer, has a Thanksgiving window that should catch the eye of every farmer that comes to town before the decorations are removed. It shows what can be grown in the county and farmers at a distance contemplating a change could in no way better inform themselves as to what is produced in old Christian than to read the list of products below, though there are many other things raised here that are not seen in the window. The window may yet be photographed, as it would be the best way to advertise the county by merchants sending them everywhere. The decorator, Mr. Ed. Curtis, displayed fine "taste" in his work. Here is what he used to make a display:
 Corn, parsnips, turnips, celery, corn-starch, flour, wheat, pepper, sweet potatoes, popcorn, lettuce, tobacco, radishes, pumpkins, hominy, parsley, Irish potatoes, salsiy, carrots.

There's A Reason.
 In selecting a Vacuum Cleaner for our subscribers, both old and new, we bought the best to be found in our opinion and we think we have chosen wisely. They are to be had as cheap as $1.85 and if you want one at that price give us your order and we will have a machine for you in a week or ten days, but not with our name on it and possibly not the manufacturer's name. We have good ones in stock and will be glad to have prospective customers make thorough comparison of our machine with any one on the market at any price, work and material considered. Durability and success in use is our watch-word.
